Notes

- This award has not been traced in The London Gazette. The citation reads "For conspicuous gallantry on the 23rd September 1918, during an attack. After the forcing of the entrance to a town, in which his troops took part, he was sent to capture guns firing from a higher position. After putting two field guns out of action he pursued large numbers of the enemy. Although only in command of a troop he captured 12 Turkish officers and 193 other ranks, besides the Turkish Military Headquarters, on which he left a guard." It should be noted the no-one could be appointed directly to IOM 1st Class. The first act of gallantry was always recognised with an award of the 2nd Class. Subsequent acts of gallantry could earn elevation to IOM 1st Class. Unless specifically identified as a 1st Class award, therefore, all references to IOM in this appendix should be taken as referring to 2nd Class awards.
- It should be noted that no-one could be appointed directly to OBI 1st Class. All such appointees were promoted from OBI 2nd Class.
- "For the display of conspicuous ability and a noble sense of duty. This officer has been a fine example of courage and loyalty to all ranks. It is difficult to speak too highly of his invaluable services." [Smuts]
- "For most conspicuous services throughout the campaign when he has on many occasions shown great gallantry. At Ngurangani on 10 January 1916 when the unit under his command was heavily enfiladed, he showed an absolute contempt for danger. His personal example so inspired his men that they advanced under the heaviest fire. His services are worthy of recognition."
- "For conspicuous gallantry in action on 9th October 1916 [the action at Kissangire]. He proceeded forward under a hot fire along a communication trench and removed a number of bodies which were impeding the advance." He died of his wounds on 14 October 1916 (CWGC archive).
- "For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 17th October 1917. This officer stayed with and encouraged his men under the hottest fire for many hours at a critical period during the battle. Undoubtedly his courage contributed largely to the stand made by the men after severe casualties had been sustained."
- "For consistent good work as Adjutant of the Regiment, in which capacity he has shown both high zeal and professional capacity, while he has also rendered on more than one occasion distinguished service on patrol work." (Smuts)
- "This officer has been in sole medical charge of the Bharatpur Imperial Service Infantry Regiment for over 18 months and has rendered invaluable service. It is due to his zeal and ability that the health of the unit, after two years' active service, has been so consistently good. He is untiring in his duties particularly in regard to sanitation. He has on many occasions held temporary medical charge of the details of South African units. The work of this old soldier, who previous to this campaign has seen active service in Burma, Tirah and Tibet, is worthy of special recognition."
- "At Ngurangani on 10th January 1916. For conspicuous gallantry in carrying from the firing line Jemadar Kala Singh, when the latter was severely wounded and unable to walk. This gallant act was performed during the withdrawal under very heavy machine gun fire at close range." EA GRO 644 19 July 1916 – TNA WO 123/288 but named as SALNALIYA. Rank as Lance Naik and name as SANWALIA in unit war diary
- "For continuous good work of a nature to merit reward. Although an old soldier of 22 years' service, he has never been on the sick list once. His conduct and zeal are an example to all ranks."
- "For general good work, performed throughout the campaign. He has never failed to be other than an excellent example to the younger soldiers. His devotion to duty merits an award." (Lieutenant Gen A N Hoskins)
- MC gazetted as Indian Land Forces attd. Mysore Lancers. History of 15th Imperial Service Cavalry Brigade refers to him as Captain and Commandant of Bhavnagar Lancers. (Two troops of Bhavnagar Lancers were attached to Mysore Lancers for the War). G of I 946, 29.11.1907, shows him as Commandant of Bhavnagar Lancers appointed to a commission as 2/Lieutenant Native Land Forces while 1773, 20.10.1917 shows transfer to Unattached List and then Indian Army 25.8.17
- "When his horse fell down exhausted, he carried his saddlery, arms and ammunition for 35 miles through sandy desert, remaining three days without food or water, thus showing splendid endurance. He was promoted Daffadar under orders of SSO Mysore Lancers."
- The Gazette does not stipulate whether Military or Civil Division. In 1920 he wrote asking for a military ribbon (BL/IOLR/L/P&ADNS/15/48 H217, 1920). Listed as Major General under Camel Corps in IST Army List January 1920.
- This award is mentioned in "Bikaner in the Great War" for 1919 but has not been traced in the London Gazette
- This was the first IOM awarded for the Egypt/Palestine Theatre. It is mentioned in this issue of the London Gazette in a narrative of events provided by Major General A. Wilson, Commanding Canal Defences, as having already been awarded. The actual authority for the award has not been traced in the London Gazette though Peter Duckers, Reward of Valour – The Indian Order of Merit 1914-1918, p.49 cites the Gazette of India number but dated 24.12.1914
- As with Sepoy Ali Khan's IOM, the award is mentioned in this issue of the London Gazette in a narrative of events provided by Major General A Wilson, Commanding Canal Defences, as having already been made. The actual authority for the award has not been traced in the London Gazette. Nevertheless, a citation has been noted, though the source unfortunately not identified. "During an encounter with Turkish troops near Bir-el-Nuss on 20 November 1914, Sepoy Faiz Ali Khan was wounded by a bullet and sword and spear thrusts. He was left for dead but when he came to he was able to struggle back to Bir-el-Nuss (4 miles). There he found some water and afterwards was able to walk back to Kantara (20 miles)".
- East Africa GRO 162 dated 14 February 1917 refers to him as Colonel, Bahadur – TNA WO 123/288

19. "Performed valuable work in erecting landing stages under fire at Kibambawe from 6 to 12 January 1917, especially on the last date when a shell burst amongst his working party, wounding five, when he showed promptitude and resource (January 1917, Rufiji River)." [Lieutenant Gen A N Hoskins]
20. "Most able work in charge of a road making party on a forced march to the Rufiji. At the crossing his work was of direct a great value to the success in the crossing of the Force to which he was attached."
21. He was later recommended by the Chief Engineer, East Africa, for the IOM 2nd Class but this was not approved. BL/IOLR/L/MIL/7/17250, though Maharajas' Paltans mistakenly listed it as awarded.
22. The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the following admissions to the Military Division of the Indian Order of Merit for gallantry in the field "for conspicuous gallantry in standing by a wounded British officer." See Chapter 9
23. "For his gallant behaviour at Tanga on the 4th November 1914 when in command of a detachment which charged and secured the enemy's trenches and captured a machine gun. In leading his men he was severely wounded.
24. This refers to both Bal Bahadur Chetti and Dal Bahadur Thapa. "For gallant behaviour on the night of 18th-19th January 1915 at Jasin, in volunteering to carry a message to Jasin Post. The post was surrounded by the enemy and the errand was one of great danger. At night with two Africans they proceeded in a dug-out through the mangrove swamps adjoining the post and, though unable to get through the enemy's outposts which were in a close ring round the post and fired on them, remained out all night and brought in useful information." Brigadier General Tighe's report in TNA WO 95/5360/5 and repeated in extract from "Copy of reports by Major General Wapshare on: (ii) Operations in the Umba Valley, January 1915" – Encl. to Pro. No 414, F&P Pro. No. 409 – NAI, F&P Progs, Internal B, June 1916
25. "This gallant officer, who was suffering from fever at the time, was conspicuous for his courageous behaviour in leading his men on the 4th November 1914 at Tanga. He was shot across the face and again through the back of his head." No London Gazette reference has been traced for this award
26. On the 25th September 1916, at Kiderengwa Drift, south of Kwa-Hongo. He lost his life in a very gallant effort to reconnoitre the enemy's position on the south bank of the Mgeta River. He knew that his attempt courted death, but volunteered for it. He had previously shown gallantry of a similar nature at Kwedihombo where he reconnoitred in the immediate neighbourhood of a bridge held by the enemy." – E.A. GRO No 1024, 1 November 1916. TNA WO 123/288 and WO 95/5332/18
27. TNA. War Diary WO/95/5332/18 in margins of page dated 1-7 December 1916
28. "For conspicuous gallantry in commanding his section, in action on all occasions, and for coolness under shell fire. On the 25th September 1917, [at NURUNYU], when the battery position was located and shelled by the enemy's guns and it was necessary to withdraw to another position, this Indian officer set a fine example to his men." IOLR, L/MIL/7/17250, Collection 425/95: folio 72.
29. "For excellent services rendered on all occasions and for conspicuous coolness in action on the 25th September 1917, [at NURUNYU], when his section was ordered to change position under accurate enemy shell fire. He set a fine example and withdrew his guns without confusion or delay". IOLR, L/MIL/7/17250, Collection 425/95: folio 72
30. For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. On the night of 26-27 July 1918, during the withdrawal of his small patrol before a superior and enterprising enemy, he particularly distinguished himself when he returned to the assistance of a wounded man. He alternately bandaged the wounded man and kept up a fire, thereby keeping the enemy at bay. Under fire he carried the wounded man and his rifle over very difficult ground in the darkness until extricated by his patrol. This gallant action resulted in the saving of the wounded man's life
31. "For conspicuous gallantry in action. He assisted to organise and led an attack against the enemy, displaying great courage and determination. He has rendered most valuable services throughout". E.A. GRO 314 dated 28.3.1917. TNA WO 123/288
32. "A capable and fearless officer with great influence over his men. The efficiency of 2 Kashmir Rifles is largely due to his loyal and untiring assistance given to Lieutenant Colonel Lyall and other SSOs attached to the Battalion."
33. "In control of a section of the Battery, rendered conspicuous service by the speed and accuracy of his shooting. A most valuable officer, by his tact and firmness he overcomes difficulties, and by his cheerfulness and fine example inspires his men with the same sense of devotion to duty." Name given as DHARAM SINGH. [Lieutenant General A N Hoskins. 20.1.1917, Kibomgo]
34. "Has rendered excellent service during the whole campaign. The health kept by 3 Kashmir Rifles, which has suffered a very small amount of sickness compared with other Indian units, is mainly due to his unceasing care."
35. For action on 8.8.1916 at Matamondo – WD WO 95/5332/18
36. For action on 10.9.1916 at Nkessa – WD WO 95/5332/18.
37. "For a very daring reconnaissance [24 October 1916 at DAKAWA] on the enemy's picquet line in charge of a party of three other scouts. He crossed the MGETA and creeping along under the river bank located an enemy picquet and by crawling to within a few yards obtained valuable information as to their strength and disposition etc. In spite of very heavy enemy fire he kept his party well together and killed one German officer before withdrawing." [Given as a prompt reward]
38. He commanded the unit at this time and was later appointed OBE in 1919. He retired from the Indian Army as a Lieutenant Colonel, subsequently became an ordained Minister in the Church of England and returned to India for a while where he served during the Second World War. His interesting group of seven medals was sold in January 2002
39. "For the highly efficient manner in which he has at all times commanded and handled his Regiment, it being due to his ability, zeal and force of example that the regiment has acquired such a distinguished record. In the field he has displayed coolness, initiative and a high degree of courage." (Smuts)
40. "For his gallant conduct at Jasin on the 18th January 1915. He rallied a small party to cover a retirement and held the enemy in check until his party were all killed and he himself severely wounded and taken prisoner"
41. "1. In assisting with machine guns when the whole team had become casualties and one gun put out of action under heavy and close fire (9.10.1916 – Kissangire). 2. Displayed great coolness in working his machine gun under close and heavy fire (17.12.1916 – Mssanga). On both the above occasions he showed courage of a high order." [Lieutenant Gen A N Hoskins]
42. "For the skillful and able handling of a patrol of 50 rifles against a greatly superior force of the enemy, and for maintaining his position until relieved, in spite of the fact that he was hotly engaged with the enemy throughout the day (15.12.1916 – Mssanga)". [Lieutenant Gen A N Hoskins]
43. "For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th October 1916. The regiment having occupied some of the enemy's trenches, it became necessary to halt. In order to carry out a further advance, it was necessary to proceed along a communication trench which was enflanked. In this trench, which was subject to a hot fire, were lying a number of killed whose bodies impeded the advance. Sepoy Sadda Singh, assisted by Sepoy Khiwan Singh (see IDSM) proceeded forward under fire and removed the corpses which were blocking the way" – GGO 2652. Sepoy Sadda Singh subsequently died of his wounds
44. For skillful leading at Umbra on 13 March [1916] when, with his patrol, he attacked and drove in the enemy's picquets in face of a heavy fire. On this occasion he was on the move for 16 hours continuously, water being scarce and the heat excessive. This is the second

- time this officer's name has been brought to notice for gallantry." - EA GRO 644 19 July 1916 - TNA WO 123/288. He had been promoted to Major and appointed Second in Command on 1 June 1916 - EA GRO 621 (ii) dated 12 July 1916.
45. "In an encounter with the enemy near Msambweni on 12 December 1915 he crept forward through the grass and under heavy fire got quite close to the enemy. Having obtained the dispositions of the enemy he returned, reporting to the OC patrol, who was thus enabled to concentrate a heavy fire in that direction, thereby causing the enemy to retire." - EA GRO 644 19 July 1916 - TNA WO 123/288
46. For gallantry. The Regiment having occupied some of the enemy's trenches, it became necessary to halt for a time. On the advance being resumed, it was necessary to proceed along a communications trench which was enfladed. In this trench, which was subjected to a hot fire from the enemy Fort, were lying a number of killed, whose bodies impeded the advance. This Sepoy, assisted by another man, proceeded forward and removed the bodies, enabling his comrades to proceed (9.10.1916 - Kissangire)."
47. "This officer was present in all the fighting in which the Regiment has taken part and has shown a constant devotion to duty throughout."
48. Has shown a willingness and devotion to duty quite out of the ordinary."
49. R B Van Wart, Sir Pratap Singh, p.211. Not traced in the London Gazette but there is a reference to correspondence about the awards to both Sir Pratap Singh and Maharaja Sumer Singh in Jodhpur archives (serial 3389, file 12, 1919) - A List of the English Record of the Jodhpur Mahkmakhas [1893-1950 AD] (Bikaner, Rajasthan State Archives 1989)
50. Already holding the Brevet rank of Lieutenant Colonel, he was promoted Temporary Lieutenant Colonel wef 11 March 1916 - G O I No 764 dated 20 April 1918. His DSO was gazetted as 5th Cavalry with no mention of Jodhpur Lancers.
51. For conspicuous gallantry in an attack on the 23rd September 1918. Previous to the attack he twice conducted patrols with great coolness under heavy fire from guns, machine guns and rifles, each time bringing back reliable information. He accurately spotted gun flashes in action and killed one of the crew. Later on he rendered good service in capturing guns and prisoners in the upper part of the town
52. "For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. This officer, accompanied only by his trumpeter, charged an entrenched machine gun, killing and scattering the crew and capturing the gun. At the same time he captured the commandant of a regiment and another officer."
53. NAI, F&P Dept, Proceedings Nos 304-309, March 1921, Internal - B, Grant of titles on the 1st January 1921 to certain Indian gentlemen in Rajputana
54. "For highly meritorious service as OC, it being due to his splendid example and high soldierly qualities that the regiment has so persistently rendered such a good account of itself in the field." (Smuts)
55. IGS telegram A 806 18.3.1917 referred to this as IDSM - WD 95/5370 but E.A. GRO 270.7 dated 19.3.1917 and quoting C in C India letter No. 43473/ (AG10) dated 21.12.1916 clearly refers to IMSM
56. "...for devotion to duty in the field on the night of 4th-5th November 1917, when in command of a patrol which was attacked by superior enemy forces with machine guns, when by his skillful handling of his men he prevented the enemy from rounding up his patrol and eventually drove them off after an action lasting two hours."
57. His DSO was gazetted 3rd Supp 29886 1.1.1917 to LG 29.12.1916 as T/Lieutenant Colonel, Indian Army, attached Liverpool Regiment. The citation for the first bar noted "He led his regiment in a mounted attack with great dash. In front of a bridgehead his leadership and resource were mainly responsible for three mounted attacks converging at the same moment." The citation for his second bar noted "On the 23rd September 1918, during the attack on Haifa, Major Lambert commanded the advanced guard of the 15th Imperial Service Cavalry Brigade. He pushed forward and occupied all tactical points close to the enemy's position and led the Mysore Lancers in the attack with great gallantry."
58. During the action of the 26th October 1918, this Indian officer showed great coolness and devotion to duty, under very heavy fire, during a charge against a strongly held enemy position. Though wounded he continued to perform his duties, thus inspiring the men by his example
59. For gallantry and initiative on the 23rd September 1918. He brought his machine gun sub section across the open under heavy fire, and galloped up stony ground to a position which the enemy was just evacuating. He, himself, was on ahead with his range-taker and killed a Turkish officer with his sword on the way to the position.
60. During the action of the 26th October 1918, this Indian officer showed great coolness and gallantry under very heavy fire, while leading his squadron in a charge against a strongly held enemy position. He rallied the squadron after his British officer had been killed and continued in action though the squadron had suffered heavy casualties.
61. During the action of the 26th October 1918, this Indian officer showed great gallantry while leading his squadron in a charge against a strongly held enemy position under very heavy fire. He was severely wounded in the hand and chest, but continued to lead his squadron until exhaustion compelled him to fall out. His splendid example inspired all ranks
62. For conspicuous gallantry and determination when with 250 men he captured 373 of the enemy. He was twice held up by strong entrenched picquets, who were covering parties attempting to cross the river in pontoons, but he pushed on under heavy fire inflicting great loss on those crossing and prevented any further attempt at escape. His name appeared in the London Gazette dated 17 March 1917 without deeds. His DSO was awarded vide Supp 29344 29.10.1915 to LG 29.10.1915 while serving as Brigade Signalling Officer, 15 Imperial Service Cavalry Brigade and was probably for Mahadat. He was appointed to Patiala as SSO in November 1915 (NAI, F&P-Intl-Nov 1915-180-288-Pt B)
63. "For gallantry and devotion to duty on the night of the 29th-30th April 1918, when in command of an advance guard, which was suddenly held up by a party of the enemy with machine guns concealed in thick scrub. Captain Bhagwan Singh led his men in such a prompt and fearless manner that the enemy were forced to retire hastily."
64. "For gallantry and devotion to duty on the 30th April 1918. His platoon came under very heavy shell and machine gun fire. An order was issued for the company to withdraw to a more sheltered position, but Subadar Dharm Singh remained where he was, as he had two seriously wounded men with him whom he could not remove. He remained there for over two hours until stretcher bearers could go out and bring the men in."
65. "For gallant and meritorious service. During recent operations he was badly shot through the wrist on the first day the regiment went into action. Though suffering considerable pain he refused to be evacuated and remained on duty throughout the operations another five days."
66. "For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. By personal reconnaissance under heavy fire he discovered the enemy machine-gun positions, and by directing one machine-gun section he caused three of the enemy machine guns to retire. He did fine work." Neither the theatre of operations nor date of incident is specified. Lt Clarke served with the Patiala Infantry in both the Dardanelles and Egypt/Palestine
67. Claimed in ISF Army List but awarded prior to IST as 14th Sikhs, Mushaq, 26.10.1918 - 4th Supp 31356 26.5.1919 to LG 23.5.1919, p.6470

68. He was recommended for an IOM 2nd Class – “An excellent Commanding Officer. He was second in command for some time and has during the past two months been in command of the Regiment, which has wonderfully improved under his administration.”The award was not approved though Maharajas’ Paltans mistakenly listed it as having been awarded. BL/IOLR/L/MIL/7/17250
69. See Chapter 4 for citation. Although a Tehri-Garhwal officer, he was commissioned to the Indian Native Land Forces and from there to 39th Garhwal Rifles. He was promoted to Lieutenant 11.2.1916 (ADN 192, 18.2.1916) and transferred to the Indian Army in that rank (ADN 1773, 19.10.1917). According to the unit history he received a Bar to the MC. This has not been traced and is believed to be an error
